In the same court the injunction cases brought against the city by Messrs. Lubbock, Frazer and Johnson, dismissed police officers, citing the city to appear and show cause why they were dismissed from service, was called at 5 p. m., when Judge Wilson notified counsel that he desired them to show authorities as to whether this was a judicial or a political proceeding and as to whether or not it had any standing at law.

City Attorney Stewart, representing the city, said that the city had been served only yesterday and in a case of such importance he thought more time should be allowed in which to answer.

FIGHT FOR A BIG ESTATE.

Texas Man May Come Into a Fortune at Chicago.

Chicago, May 30.—A sensational turn has been given to the litigation now pending in regard to the Curtis E. Robinson estate by the announcement that Frederick N. Robinson, who was believed to have died many years ago, is alive in Texas and will shortly come to Chicago to claim a fortune of $1,000,000.

Frederick Robinson was, it is said, last heard of in 1879, when his aunt received a letter from him, dated at Savannah, announcing that he was tired of existence and that he intended to come North in a few days.

Curtis E. Robinson, a large property owner, died in 1882 at his home, 2130 Wabash avenue. Since his death a fight for the fortune has been waged between Robinson's children and his grandchildren. The untold fortune for development occurred a short time ago, when the law firm of Smith, Hemen, Moulton & appearance of Frederick N. Robinson, who insisted he was the rightful heir and made affidavit to that effect. He said he had lived in Texas for six years and had previously led a roving life. For a short while he went to sea, but he denied that he had written to his aunt in 1879, the important detail in the story differs from the statements contained in the legal records.

He further said that after leaving the sea he lived in the Southern States, earning a hand-to-mouth existence. He said he was informed of his father's death by a traveling salesman, for a Chicago firm. He placed the matter in the hands of a Houston lawyer, who at once communicated with Smith, Hemen, Moulton & Price. According to Robinson's attorneys, he was due to arrive in Chicago May 1, and that he has not yet appeared. It is explained by the statement that he is sick and unable to undertake a journey.

Curtis E. Robinson settled in Chicago in 1886, having previously worked as a laborer in a small town in Massachusetts. Frederick N. Robinson was born about 1860, and a few years later, it is said, Curtis Robinson and his wife separated permanently. About 1885 he introduced to his friends as his wife Joanna H. Duckerman, who had three children by a former husband. Two of the children, it is said, died, and the third, a boy, who was kidnapped in 1870, has not been heard of since. By the woman he recognized as his wife Robinson had three children, all of whom are alive. He started a saloon in 1870, retiring a millionaire in 1885.

SICK SOLDIERS.

Two of Wood's Rough Riders Sent to Houston for Treatment.

Trooper L. N. Montgomery, son of Dr. Montgomery of Hempstead, and Trooper C. P. Nicholson of Liberty, Texas, both members of Colonel Wood's famous Rough Riders, have been forwarded for medical treatment to the St. Joseph infirmary of this city. The first arrived at the institution Monday evening and is receiving attention at the hands of Dr. Lillard, and the second arrived yesterday afternoon and is being treated by Dr. W. N. Shaw. Both are suffering from measles, the case of Trooper Montgomery being somewhat serious.

The two sick soldiers, in their desire to get to the front, did everything possible to conceal their illness, and when they were no longer able to hold out against the disease, they capitulated at the request of the army surgeons, with the result stated.

Both are fine looking young fellows, full of warlike patriotism, and seem to feel keenly their temporary inability to be with their command. However, their medical advisers hope to have them convalescent within a week, and in the meantime the good Sisters of the St. Joseph's infirmary are unrelenting in their kindly care and motherly nursing, and nothing is being left undone that can alleviate the suffering or add to the comfort of the brave troopers.

The illness of these soldiers furnished Lieutenant General Roosevelt the opportunity to issue one of his first official orders. It is up-to-date, and reads as follows:

Headquarters First United States Volunteer Cavalry, Liberty, May 31, 1898.—Trooper C. P. Nicholson of Troop I, First United States volunteer cavalry, is hereby granted leave of absence on account of sickness, and ordered to proceed to St. Joseph's infirmary, Houston, and remain there until discharged cured, whereupon he will rejoin the regiment at the front.

Lieutenant Colonel Commanding First United States Cavalry.

Dr. Montgomery arrived from Hempstead last night to visit his sick son, and is much gratified for treatment and kindness the latter is receiving at the infirmary. Trooper Montgomery was a classmate of Dr. Shaw at the Texas State university and he and his brother soldier are delighted that their illness came upon them sufficiently near Houston to enable them to receive the scientific care and gentle nursing which are the characteristics of the St. Joseph's infirmary.

DAUGHTERS OF THE REPUBLIC.

Still at Work in Perpetuating Texas History.

The executive committee of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas met Tuesday at the residence of Mrs. M. J. Briscoe. The following members were present: Mrs. M. Loosan, chairman, Mrs. C. B. Stone and Mrs. H. A. Lander of Galveston, Mrs. Therese Bryan Robbins of Matagorda county and Mrs. J. J. McKeever, Jr., of this city. In accordance with recent amendments to the constitution enlarging the committee from six to nine the following new members were chosen: Mrs. M. P. Mott of Galveston, Mrs. F. J. Huff of Angleton, Mrs. Kate S. Terrell of Dallas and Mrs. M. B. Urvitz of Houston. Mrs. A. A. Moore, chairman, presided over the meeting. The committee on furnishing pictures of S. F. Austin and General Sam Houston to the schools of the State was read and approved, and the same committee requested for the ensuing year.

The Daughters have sent out a total of 150 pictures to the schools, requiring only a sufficient amount from the pupils to defray the expense of framing and crating for shipment by express. Last year the pictures were supplied mostly to schools in the cities, while for the year ending April 21, 1898, the greater part of fifty-nine ordered have gone to smaller places.

An increased interest in the observance of Texas holidays was reported, also a corresponding demand for Texas songs and recitations. The committee having in charge the preparation of a book of essays and recitations earnestly requests the assistance of musically and writers throughout the State. Commencement on this subject sent to the chairman, Miss Belle Fenn of Houston, will receive due attention.

After transacting routine business the committee adjourned to meet in October.

FLAG RAISING.

More Demonstrations of Patriotism on the Part of the People.

A large crowd of people witnessed the hoisting of the United States flag yesterday afternoon over the Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express building, on Franklin avenue. There were no speeches, but the Light Guard band made up in patriotic music what the occasion lacked in oratory. A fusillade of torpedoes imparted enthusiasm to the event, and the proceedings closed with the free dispensation of liquid refreshments for a limited number of those who were present.

"Old Glory" was last evening turned loose over the blacksmith shop of J. B. Marmion, 1802 Providence street (fifth ward). A big gathering attended, and loud cheers went up from all present when the stately banner was unfurled to the breeze. At the close of the celebration Mr. Marmion turned loose all kinds of refreshments, to which the patriotic assembly did ample justice. The flag, raised by little Manor Marmion, Captain George Smith delivered an address and a cannon salute wound up the enthusiastic proceedings.

A flag raising at Brunner brought out a numerous gathering of spectators last evening, and the National symbol was unfurled amidst great enthusiasm in front of the B. H. club. Addresses were made by Judge W. N. Shaw and Mr. W. G. Love.

The flag above the grocery store of Hehnke & Elliott, adjacent to the city hall, waved in triumph yesterday throughout the threatened squall, which caused so many others to be furled.

WINE OF CARDUI

Make Your Wife Happy.

A good many wives are unhappy because their husbands are not as devoted to them as they used to be. Husbands often wonder why their wives are not as attractive as they once were. There is one class of diseases that makes more trouble between husbands and wives—that turns more happy, light-hearted, young brides into sour, disagreeable women than all else put together. Nearly always when a happy young wife begins to be fretful and fault-finding, when she commences to go down hill in health and appearance she has some of the complaints familiarly called "female diseases". There is something wrong in the delicate organs that make her a woman. McElyre's Wine of Cardui is made to keep those organs in perfect condition. When they are right a woman is seldom sick. She will live as long as nature intended she should. If husbands would keep their wives supplied with this wonderful medicine it would often make a great difference with their homes. It will keep their wives happy, contented, affectionate, attractive. Wine of Cardui can be bought at any drug store, and women can take it in the privacy of their own homes.

McElyre's Wine of Cardui

I have bought two bottles of McElyre's Wine of Cardui for my wife and daughter. After taking them, they are both in better health than for two years. We found this medicine is of the greatest benefit to women.

McElyre's Wine of Cardui and Theobald's Black-Draught have done my wife a great deal of good. They are without doubt the best medicine for women in the world.

HOUSTON, TEXAS, June 7th.
I had what the doctors said was falling of the womb, and suffered eight years. I got worse instead of better all the time, and was finally confined to my bed. My husband at last brought me a bottle of McElyre's Wine of Cardui, and I took it as once. In three days I was sitting up two hours a day, and at the end of three weeks I am doing my house work, and gaining flesh and strength faster than ever in my life.
